

Provided by George Brizek

During WWII the cartoonist Zack Mosley was a member of Civil Air Patrol Coastal Base 3 Lantana Florida. During that time he managed to fly missions and still create his newspaper comic strips featuring SMILIN' JACK. Zack sometimes created situations involving what CAP was doing for the war effort. The following is just one example from 1942.

Scenario; Jack (AAF pilot) and his crew off the Florida coast and CAP was searching for them.

